INTRODUCTION
AND
GENERAL INDEX

HILL DIRECTORY COMPANY, publishers of Southeastern Directories, presents to subscribers and the general public, this, the latest edition of the Tarboro City Directory. (In all, HILL DIRECTORY COMPANY and its affiliated companies publish more than 1,300 city and suburban Directories).

Confidence in the growth of Tarboro's industry, population and wealth, and in the advancement of its civic and social activities, will be maintained as sections of this Directory are consulted, for the Directory is a mirror truly reflecting Tarboro to the world.

The enviable position occupied by HILL'S Directories in the estimation of the public throughout the country, has been established by rendering the best in Directory service. With an unrivaled organization, and having had the courteous and hearty cooperation of the business and professional people and residents, the publishers feel that the result of their labors will meet with the approval of every user, and that the Directory will fulfill its mission as a source of authentic information pertaining to the community.

Four Major Departments

The four major departments are arranged in the following order:

I. THE BUYERS' GUIDE constitutes the first major department of the Directory, printed on yellow paper. In the first section of this department, grouped under appropriate headings, are included the advertisements and business cards of firms and individuals desiring to make a complete presentation of their products or services. Following this is the Classified Business Section, which embraces a list of the names and addresses of all business and professional concerns of the community, arranged in alphabetical order under appropriate headings-a catalog of all the activities of the community. The Buyers' Guide represents reference advertising at its best, and merits the attention of all buyers and sellers seeking sources of supply or markets for goods. In a busy and diversified community like Tarboro, the necessity of having this kind of information up-to-date and always immediately available, is obvious. The Directory is the common intermediary between buyer and seller, and plays an important role in the daily activities of the commercial, industrial and professional world.

II. THE ALPHABETICAL LIST OF NAMES of residents, business and professional concerns is the second major department, printed on white paper. This Directory aims to show the name, marital status, occupation, and address of each adult resident of Tarboro, and the name, official personnel, nature, and address of each firm and corporation in the community. A special feature of this section is the listing of telephone numbers.

III. THE DIRECTORY OF HOUSEHOLDERS, INCLUDING STREET AND AVENUE GUIDE, is the third major department, printed on green paper. In this section, the numbered streets are arranged in numerical order, followed by the named streets in alphabetical order; the numbers of the residences and business concerns are arranged in numerical order under the name of each street, and the names of the householders and concerns are placed opposite the numbers. The names of the intersecting streets appear at their respective crossing points on each street. Special features of this section are the designation of owner-occupied homes, the listing of telephone numbers, new householder symbols and Zip Codes.

IV. THE NUMERICAL TELEPHONE DIRECTORY is the fourth major department, printed on blue paper.

This publication also contains an Edgecombe County Rural Residents Directory printed on white paper immediately following the Numerical Telephone Directory.

Community Publicity

The Directory reflects the achievements and ambitions of the community, depicting in unbiased terms what it has to offer as a place of residence, as a business location, as a manufacturing site and as an educational center. The publishers have placed copies of this issue of the Directory in Directory Libraries, where they are readily available for free reference, and serve as perpetual and reliable advertisements of Tarboro and vicinity.

The Tarboro Out-of-Town City Directory Library

Through the courtesy of the publishers of the Tarboro City Directory, a Directory Library is maintained in the offices of the Tarboro Area Chamber of Commerce, Inc., for free reference by the general public. This is one of many Directory Libraries installed in cities and towns throughout the United States and Canada through the courtesy of your publisher.

The publishers appreciatively acknowledge the recognition by those progressive business and professional people who have demonstrated their confidence in the City Directory as an advertising medium, with assurance that it will bring a commensurate return.

Tarboro, county seat of Edgecombe County, is located in the coastal plain section of North Carolina, in the center of one of the State's finest agricultural areas, producing tobacco, cotton, peanuts, corn and foodstuffs. Located within the town zoning area are 13 manufacturing plants employing a total of approximately 6,800 people. Eight of these plants manufacture a variety of woven and knitted textile products; others produce plastic toys, communication cable, farm machinery, power tools and wall laminates. Native labor is employed in the Tarboro plants and employee-manager relationship has been noted for smoothness of operation and good will.

Tarboro is the home of Carolina Telephone and Telegraph Company, which serves about 100 municipalities in eastern North Carolina.

Incorporated in 1760, Tarboro has shown steady progress in growth. The retail business section, with its modern stores and progressive merchants, is one of the finest in the south for any city of comparable size. A wide selection of merchandise is offered in the stores and the local citizen can fulfill all his needs right at home.

In addition to its diversified industry, Tarboro is a very important tobacco market. Six large, modern auction warehouses handle the leaf sales and buyers representing all domestic and foreign companies are on hand for the auctions. For the past several years, Tarboro has shown a gratifying increase in the number of pounds sold each year and is rapidly becoming one of the best markets in the Bright Leaf Tobacco Belt. Production and marketing of cotton and peanuts have also played a very important part in the city's growth.

Headstart Center, Tarboro, N.C.

Tarboro boasts a modern hospital, the modern Edgecombe General Hospital, completed in 1959. The health of a community plays a vital part in the stability and progress, not only of the community itself, but of the nation as a whole, and Tarboro is fortunate in having a fully-equipped hospital with their well-trained staff. They serve patients from a wide radius, and the doctors who practice in the hospital are considered among the finest in the State.

Tarboro operates its own electric distribution system, furnishing an ample supply of power purchased from Virginia Electric & Power Co., both for industry and home needs. The profits derived from the Municipal Light and Power System have contributed towards keeping the city in excellent financial condition, with a low bonded debt and a low tax rate. The city also has a modern water purification plant which was built during the mid-thirties, with an addition added in 1958. This plant is large and modern in every respect, and is adequately equipped to take care of the city's present and future needs.

Tarboro is served by a network of well-paved roads which include U.S. Highways 64 and 258. The Seaboard Coast Line Railroad Company serves the city and offers excellent connections to all parts of the country. Excellent bus connections are available to all parts of the State.

The Town of Tarboro operates a recreation department under a full-time director, Mr. Brent Braswell and his staff. The department directs numerous programs for people ranging from small fry to senior citizens. They cover a wide variety of athletic and cultural activities.

Year after year, Tarboro has produced outstanding swimming teams which have won more than their share of trophies and records in swimming meets both at home and throughout the East, Midwest and Deep South. The Tarboro pool has paid great dividends in health, safety and teamwork for the youth of Tarboro, and has been an important addition to the recreation.

The town owns 40 acres in parks plus 80 acres of school property used for recreation purposes. Its facilities also include a municipal stadium (3.5 acres) where High School, Pony League and American League baseball is played. Also 2 boat ramps on the Tar River and 7 public tennis courts. Tarboro Town Common Part of original 1760 Town Plan. Now separates downtown from nearby residential Historic District.

Of special interest to the visitor is the Town Common, which is one of the most beautiful parks in the State. Its massive oak trees have afforded shade for generations and it is a favorite gathering place for children and grown ups. Tarboroans are proud of the Common, the only Common south of Boston, a tract of land situated in the heart of the city, where stately oaks and flowering dogwood trees make it a place of beauty.

Visitors will also want to see the trees growing in the Calvary Episcopal churchyard, brought from every continent of the world, including a cork tree.

Cotton Press, Circa 1850, located in Town Common.

Adjoining Tarboro on the south is the Town of Princeville. Princeville was incorporated in 1885.

Edgecombe County was formed in 1732. Bounded by Halifax, Martin, Nash, Pitt and Wilson counties, it is in the center of the Bright Leaf Tobacco belt of the Carolina Coastal Plain. Within its borders are five hundred and fifteen square miles of rich agricultural land which produce tobacco, peanuts and cotton in great quantity. The sandy loam of Edgecombe County is ideal for the raising of flue cured tobacco. This valuable crop is grown in all parts of the county and contributes materially to the wealth of this section. Plant disease is rare, and the better grades of tobacco predominate. Ranking sixth in the state in value of crops and livestock, Edgecomb County depends largely on the soil to maintain a relatively high per capita worth. Of the county population, over fifty-two thousand, about seventy percent, are engaged in agriculture and the raising of livestock.

Blount-Bridges House, circa 1808, under restoration by the Town of Tarboro.

The social and civic life of Tarboro is active and very progressive with 17 civic and cultural clubs. The Hilma Country club and American Legion hut are constantly in use. The Tarboro Moose Lodge and Tarboro Jaycees are ever-growing fraternal organizations.

The county is noted for its hunting and fishing. The Tar River and various feeder streams are good especially for striped bass. Bird hunting in season is a ranking sport. The Tar is active with outboard motor boats and the river feeds into Pamlico Sound. Various communities throughout the County offer recreational facilities in the form of ball parks, fishing facilities, etc.

Tarboro has an active Planning Board and Zoning Commission. The town and its vicinity are carefully zoned and the town has a long-range development plan.

In conjunction with Edgecombe County, the town helps support a non-profit Industrial Development Organization which has successfully added to the town's industrial growth.

A newly formed Historical Society has established a museum for permanent housing of many valuable collections relating to the rich history of Tarboro and Edgecombe County.

E. L. ROBERSON CENTER is a multi-purpose center, sponsored and maintained by the Town of Tarboro's Recreation Department. The Roberson Center provides the older person with the opportunity to continue his active and productive life through a constantly expanding program of educational, cultural and recreational community activities and services.

Sunset Park Center, Tarboro, N.C.

Tarboro, Edgecombe County, North Carolina

Although it is generally agreed that the area around Tarboro was settled by 1733, Moseley's map of that year shows only Tuskeruro Indians. A settlement shown on Mallard (Town) Creek is Ucoherent, King Blount's Town, now Old Sparta. Tarrburg, as it was called on maps of 1770-75, was constituted November 30, 1760 as Tarborough by the Governor and his Council. In September of that year, Joseph and Esther Howell deeded 150 acres of their property, except the land whereon they lived and a small graveyard, to the Reverend James Moir, Lawrence Toole, Merchant, Captains Aquilla Sugg and Elisha Battle, and Benjamin Hart, Esquire, for five shillings and one pepper corn. These men, as Commissioners, were to lay out a town with lots of not more than one-half acre, streets not wider than eighty feet, with twelve lots and a fifty-acre common set aside for public use. Lots were to be sold for two pounds and turned over to the Howells, who never received full return, for not all of the 109 lots sold and some not at the 40 shilling price. Tarboro has been the county seat of Edgecombe since its founding. The State legislature met here once in 1787. Tarboro, as it was called in 1833 maps, has continued to maintain a position of importance in Eastern North Carolina, being always ready to adopt the new, but slow to forsake the old. It ventured early into manufacturing, though agriculture has long been its backbone. It prospered, and in the 1850's, its citizens were calling it Tawboro. By whatever name, it takes it from the Tar River, on the origin of which there is no general agreement. Most support tar for the tar products once produced. Many hold that it is an Indian word tau, meaning "river of health". A few claim Taw after the river in Devonshire, England.

As to time, size and architecture, buildings in Tarboro closely follow those of the County, from which it is inseparable. A few eighteenth century examples, more early ninteenth and many fine mid-nineteenth century exist. The remarkable number of old homes which survive today, by and large, have not been restored. They have been maintained and lived and worked in; even those which have been restored have been restored for use, not for the sake of restoration. The town has a proud heritage and it is the goal of the citizens to try to preserve it.

Through the years, the town has been noted in press and private letters for its beauty, charm and hospitality. It has often been referred to as stately by its delighted visitors. We welcome industrialization and modernization, but we strive to keep these changes going along the excellent lines they have been following, preserving that which is good but ever ready to bring new blood into the old body corporate.

General Review

Tarboro, county seat of Edgecombe County, is located in the coastal plain section of North Carolina, in the center of one of the State's finest agricultural areas, producing tobacco, cotton, peanuts, corn and foodstuffs. Located within the town limits is a farm machinery manufacturer employing 1,000. The industries include cotton, toys, lumber, knitting, feed and grain. Tarboro, the home of Carolina Telephone and Telegraph Company, which serves about 100 municipalities in eastern North Carolina.

Tarboro has a healthy diversification of industry which insures its continued growth and prosperity. Located here are four large textile mills, two hosiery mills, an agricultural machinery manufacturer, a peanut processing plant, large plastic toy manufacturer, a power tool manufacturing plant and a communications cable plant. Native labor is employed in the Tarboro plants and employee-manager relationship has been noted for smoothness of operation and good will.

EDGECOMBE COUNTY

Tarboro

Most of the progress in Tarboro is related to community projects. Two separate recreational buildings were completed in November, 1976 at a cost of approximately $700,000. Each includes gymnasiums and other facilities. A $975,000 Community Development Fund was allocated to housing and other community projects which are underway. This included a courthouse mall. $400,000 of discretionary funds were used to construct a Senior Citizens building.

The Army Engineers completed and submitted a much-needed Flood Plain Report. Fifty housing units for senior citizens were completed in the Hendricks Park urban renewal area.

The Town granted a franchise for cable television. A new 150-bed nursing and rest home is nearing completion. North Carolina National Bank has constructed a branch facility, and various retail facilities, such as a mall and another shopping plaza, have been erected. An addition to Edgecombe General Hospital has been completed.

Pinetops

Restoration of the old Town Hall in colonial style architecture completed. Also completed are conversion of old railroad station into an excellent Town Hall facility; major expansion of water and sewer system; land purchased and plans made for construction of new consolidated high school in the Pinetops area.

Whitakers

A major achievement was reconstruction of a building to house a modern Community Health Center operated by Edgecombe General Hospital to serve the Whitakers area of the county.

Leggett

Dedicated the new modern North Edgecombe High School. Established a new Town Hall and expanded fire department equipment. Completed a Community Water System serving Leggett and surrounding areas.

County General

A new County Administration Building was erected in 1979.

A BRIEF HISTORY OF THE ORIGIN AND FORMATION OF EDGECOMBE COUNTY

The people of Edgecombe County have shared an exciting, colorful and rich history throughout the past 260 years. The earliest attempt to form a settlement was made by a group of Virginians prior to 1720. This effort failed because of the destruction and torture from the hands of the Tuscarora and Cotechney Indians who occupied this territory. In 1720, a fort of protection was built on the Tar River.

The mouth of Town Creek marked the beginning of the settlement in 1720. In 1722, the present vicinity of Tarboro was settled by a small party of young Virginians, and by 1723, there were 20 families residing on the Tar River alone.

These settlers endured many hardships in establishing their homes, but they were anxious to secure farms of their own and live an independent life apart from their former masters.

The population increased during the next ten years, but not without political bearing. When the Assembly met in Edenton on May 6, 1732, as called by Governor Burrington, the people residing on the Tar River and south side of the Roanoke River presented a petition requesting that a new precinct be created, giving them the same privileges enjoyed by other precincts. The Governor and Assembly acted favorably toward the petition and ordered the precinct of Bertie and the District on the south side of the Roanoke River to appoint commissioners to measure the bounds which were to make a new precinct called Edgecombe.

The County was named in honor of Richard the First of Edgecombe of the Manorial House of England. The boundary was set to extend from the south side of the Roanoke to the north of Concanora Creek to Blounts Old Town on the Tar River, including the present territory of Martin and the upper part of Fitt County. The dividing line extended between the Neuse and Tar Rivers embracing all the territory to the northeast branch of the Cape Fear River, touching the present vicinity of Mount Olive in Wayne County.

In October of the same year the people on the south side of Moratock River presented another petition to the Governor and council from Bertie that they might be added to the Edgecombe precinct. The territory from Hawkins line at Rainbow Banks to Blounts Old Town of the Tar River and the land directly up the Roanoke to the boundary line of the Edgecombe precinct was added. This greatly increased the bounds of this precinct of Edgecombe. The entire territory lying between the Roanoke and Neuse Rivers west of Tarboro vicinity and northeast of the Cape Fear river became a part of Edgecombe.

Virginia marked the boundary line on the north beginning where the Roanoke crosses the border of the North Carolina Colony and extending westward without limits. The boundary on the east followed through the counties of Halifax and Martin, a distance of about 85 miles.

On the south, Edgecombe was bounded by Beaufort and Craven Counties; the line between Edgecombe extending from the present Town of Robersonville to Walstonburg and thence to the northeast Cape Fear River, touching Mount Olive.

The western boundary followed the Neuse River through Selma in Johnston County, taking in the present Town of Clayton. At Clayton the boundary extended to the Cape Fear River again, touching Merry Oaks, then followed the Haw River, including the present counties of Caswell and Orange, covering a distance of about 150 miles. Edgecombe covered seventeen counties of the present State territory. In the spring of 1733, Edgecombe was confirmed as a precinct by the Assembly which met in Edenton.

In 1744, a Courthouse was built in Enfield, North Carolina.

In 1746, Edgecombe County began to be divided into smaller counties. The territory from the mouth of the Stonehouse Creek on the Roanoke and thence across the river to the strip of land between the Tar and the Neuse rivers was the dividing line between Craven and Edgecombe counties, to be called Granville, named in honor of the Earl of Granville.

In 1758, the southern part of Edgecombe and Johnston counties was formed and named Dobbs County in honor of Governor Dobbs.

In the meantime, settlers were coming in the county from other territories because of the fertile soil that offered greater opportunities for a livelihood. This resulted in a more rapid process of farming and shaping industries. Better roads, fences and bridges were constructed to aid in better commerce. Waterways were opened up by taxation, drained and put into cultivation.

In 1758, the greatest check to progress came when Halifax, the town and commercial center of the precinct, was cut off by a division of the county. This caused considerable inconvenience to the inhabitants of Edgecombe. The separation checked the progress and welfare of the county in many respects. There was no place for public meetings and no organized activities in any form. To make matters worse, Edgecombe lost the Courthouse which was located in Halifax, its former capitol.

The merchants and people of Edgecombe, realizing the situation, acted quickly and wisely in formulating plans for a new capitol; therefore, they had to build a new Courthouse.

On November 30, 1760, the Town of Tarboro, centrally located in Edgecombe, was constituted and designated as the county seat.

Since 1720, Edgecombe County has continued to grow and develop into one of the outstanding counties in North Carolina and the Nation, furnishing great leadership on the County, State and National levels.

The people of Edgecombe are intelligent, law abiding, industrious, resourceful and progressive. They will continue to grow, develop and broaden with the process of time, and in so doing, will stand foremost in all that makes a notable and worthy people. They face the future with confidence.

NUMERICAL TELEPHONE DIRECTORY

WHAT'S IN A PHONE NUMBER?

ABOUT THE FIRM:
Who called me? When your call back message gives a telephone number only—or includes a common surname such as Jones, Smith, Brown, etc.—this Numerical Telephone Directory will assist in determining correct firm name. Make use of both Alphabetical and Street Guide information to establish names of officers, owners or partners, products and services, and correct address. Properly identify firm and caller and have needed records, file or correspondence on hand before returning call.

ABOUT THE INDIVIDUAL:
Who called me? When only a telephone number is known, this Numerical Telephone Directory will assist in determining the name of the subscriber—with this information combined with other sections of your City Directory you may quickly establish such information as wife's name, place of employment, job title, home address, business address and telephone number.
